"Hannah Coles, you are being sentenced for the crime of stealing confekshunary from a local business," judge kriller boomed. "You will be sentenced to serve 6 months at the eceptional camp ice cap." Hannah felt her heart drop. Surely this wasn't real; she hadn't done what she was accused of!

"Officers, remove Miss Coles and take her into custody." judge kriller was glaring at Hannah as though she had spoken without speaking. "Remember Miss Coles, it is your despicable and destructive actoins that have brought you hear." She shrivelled into her seat making he body as small as she could. In the courtrooms gallery, Hannah could see her mum and dad both cried, and grasping hold of one another. Don't worry she thought. Ill be home soon. Hannahs hands were put into handcuffs and she reluctantly followed the officers outside the courtroom and into the car where she climbed in and did up her belt. with a roar the police car started up and Hannah was beginning the next phase of her life.
